BUDGET REFORM.

The good effect which the rumoured reduction of the Budget has caused, was quite noticeable yesterday on 'Change. In fact we believe that gold would have gone to 145, but for the widespread conviction that Congress has come to the front, and the Budget for the new year will be reduced to thirty millions.

We could wish that some of the Senators and Deputies of Congress would visit the Bolsa, that great centre "where merchants most do congregate," in order to hear the views of the leading merchants of this market. Yesterday there was nothing else spoken of on 'Change, save the proposed economies and the reduction of the National expenditure, and our legislators may rest assured that all their efforts in that direction, will not only be fully appreciated by the market, but also that those of the members who take the most conspicuous part in carrying out these economies, will make for themselves a popularity which will lift them to the highest places amongst their contemporaries.

The remarkable unanimity of the newspapers on this question is one of the very best signs of the country, since we are firmly convinced that when the papers pull all together, and with the current of opinion, they can effect anything and everything. All the papers of Buenos Aires agree that the budget should be reduced to 30 millions. The members of Congress are now setting a noble example by cutting down their salaries one half. Everyone in Buenos Aires cries out against the extravagance of the present administration. A special Committee of the House has been formed to tax every item in this most inflated budget, and we may remind our readers that it is only in moments like the present we see how virtuous was the Avellaneda administration, whose budget was reduced from 29,577,031 to 17,637,754 in the year 1878. If in former years on a limited budget of 29 millions our public men could reduce the expenditure 12 millions, most assuredly our public men now can easily strike from a most inflated budget 10 millions. We repeat the work is in good hands, and the impression is that the economies will be carried out.

THE PARANA RAILWAY.

Dr. Lucas Gonzalez may claim the merit of introducing a new method for the building of railways in the Plate, and one which, whilst convenient to the iron masters and contractors in England, is equally advantageous to this country.

It is really astonishing that whilst in Buenos Ayres we have to raise loans, form companies and fee syndicates to build railways, in Entre Rios and Santa Fé, through the admirable financial combinations organized by Dr. Gonzalez, they have none of this trouble or anxiety; and, as is instanced in the Santa Fé Colonies Railway, inaugurated last month, the railway is built, finished and opened to the public there before the railway contractors or "concessionaires" would have time to get through the mere "tramites" were the line here.

Telegrams from London announce that the new Parana Railway debentures, just issued, have been placed at 91½, which clearly shews the preference which all such railway bonds enjoy over Government bonds in the world's market.

These bonds have been issued by the Government of Entre Rios to build the Parana Railway, and have been paid out to the contractors of said railway at 85 per cent. The contractors now negotiate them at 91½, and the proceeds are deposited in the Bank of England, and only paid out to the contractors according as the Government certificates of the work done are delivered to the Bank or the trustees of the loan.

Our colleague El Diario, who evidently does not understand the operation, points to the gains the contractors make in receiving the bonds at 85 and negotiating them at 91½; but these profits are more nominal than otherwise, since the contractors during the construction of the railway have to meet the service of the debt, and also have to pay the London commission to bankers, etc., on the business; thus this 6½ per cent. will barely recoup the contractors.

The Entre-Riano Government has contracted with the "concessionaire" for the building of the road at the rate of $17,167 per kilom., payable not in money or ready cash, but in these railway debenture bonds 6 per cent., at the rate of 85 per cent.

We all know that Entre Rios is not such a level country as Santa Fé, and is bisected with deep and rapid rivers and streams innumerable. Thus it would be impossible for any contractor to build a railway in Entre Rios for the same money as in Santa Fé; and, although not possessing much technical knowledge of the cost per kilom. of railway making in Entre Rios, it certainly does not seem to us very high pay, the price arranged on between the Government and the contractor.

The enormity of this business in the eyes of our colleague El Diario consists in the heavy debt which it saddles on Entre Rios, which is another Diario blunder, since in truth these railway bonds constitute no debt on the province at all. Up to the period of inaugurating the road to public traffic the contractors pay the service of these bonds, and after the opening of the railway to the public the earnings of the road are applied to that service, and in case of deficit the Government of Entre Rios binds itself to make good the amount.

But is it probable that this Parana Railway will not give 6 per cent. net, running as it does through the best and most populous and thickly stocked and cultivated camps of that province? We think not; and we even go so far as to say that, instead of being a weight on the province and a charge on its treasury, we believe that in a very few years the earnings of the railway will exceed the service on the bonds, and afford a very handsome revenue to the Government of Entre Rios.

So admirable is this plan of Dr Gonzalez for the building of railways in the provinces, that we regret it has never been adopted in Buenos Ayres. The D'Abreu Railway from Bahia Blanca to Mercedes, San Luis, might now be half constructed, had the proposed concession been based upon the same financial combination; and the trains might now be running clean out to Trenquelauquen and General Acha had this easy plan been adopted. So far from censuring the Entre Riano Government for the business, we consider General Racedo and his Ministers merit the greatest praise, and we see before our eyes the fruits. Already 3 cargoes of railway materials for this Parana Railway are on the way out; 400 navvies are at work at the earthworks, 40,000 $m/n per month is paid away for labor, and the country is each day becoming enriched by the enterprise.

THE BOLSA BALL.

The great Bolsa Ball takes place today, and all the decorations will be completed this afternoon. On Wednesday night the illumination of the great dancing-hall was effected, in the presence of a few invited gentlemen including engineer Mr. Maraini.

The effect of the gas-jets of different colours was fairy-like, and was rendered more intense and fantastic by the magnificent mirrors that hang from the walls. Plants have been placed in the entrance-hall facing the Plaza 25 de Mayo. This hall leads to a room which has been transformed into a garden illuminated with gas-jets, and containing comfortable seats for "talking age and whispering lovers made." The garden leads to a small room tastefully adorned with plants and flowers, and this room leads immediately into the vast saloon which is destined for dancing.

The columns that support the galleries are partly decorated with red cloth, over which the most consummate taste has been displayed in placing flowers, wreaths and other decorations. On both sides of the large saloon, under the arches that lead to the collateral saloons, eight immense gaseliers supported on large bronze pedestals have been placed.

On entering the large saloon one is dazzled by a beautiful light representing the sun, on which is inscribed Paz y Libertad.

In the Barraqueros' saloon, where dancing will likewise be allowed, although it is set apart for the matrons, Ladies of Benificencia &c. six gas-jets have been put up. Fountains and grottos have been placed in the angles to the right of the large saloon. A magnificent grotto has been constructed by our friend the Lord Mayor, which gives a fairy charm to the surroundings.

What give the saloons a most agreeable aspect are the splendid mirrors hanging from the walls and reflecting the different coloured lights. All the saloons are to be carpeted in red, and an orchestra, comprising 50 professors, will occupy the high gallery facing the Plaza 25 de Mayo.

The ball will be an event in our social circles, as all Buenos Ayres will be there. The only thing to be feared is that there will be so great a crowd dancing may be rendered impossible. We sincerely hope every body and his wife and daughters will enjoy themselves and that the premium on gold will not go up on the following day.

No words can sufficiently express our praise of the noble and untiring efforts of the ladies who have organized everything and in company with Don Manuel Doltz and Mr. Llavallol we on bended knees thanked the two ladies of the committee in the Hall, Madames Pearson and Lavalle for their resplendent triumph. The ladies' dressing room is on the right of the hall entering from the Plaza, and supper tables will be laid in the grand hall, opening on Calle Piedad. We remind the ladies that in the side Aisle of the grand saloon where dancing also will be going on is the beautiful statue of Rivadavia, cut to flesh life, and being by the skilled chisel of our friend Correo Morales. So grand, large and immense is the building that spite of all the talk about the crush we believe there will be plenty of room for all the dancers.

LONDON LETTER.

NO NEWS.

(From our own Correspondent.)

July 10.

Newspapers, Liberal, Conservative, Radical and Social-Democratical, contain nothing. The beautiful summer weather carries our thoughts to the country and the idle world in general, that has not time even to read the Pall-Mall Gazette, is busy with the match between Renshaw and Lawford, the marriage of the Princess Beatrice and its own fetes and modes of toddling through life. A few professed politicians occupy themselves with Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's Budget, the policy of the Government and the chances of their party in November. For the rest politics are dormant, and cannot well revive till autumn.

What you see about the "programme" of the Government, or the speeches of Lord Salisbury, or the opinions of Germany, or of France or Russia, you can simply pass over. There is no programme; there is no policy. In point of fact there is no Government. What the new Government has done, so far, has been done discreetly and well, and to continue to do nothing well, is, and must be, the sum of their policy at present. The Chancellor of the Exchequer has simply taken the Budget of his predecessor, as it was virtually amended by the brewers and distillers and holders of real property, who opposed the drink and death duties. The income tax remains at 8d., and the tax on corporate property and the stamp duty on foreign securities, remain in the new Budget. The deficit is to be made up by the simple process of borrowing four millons on Exchequer Bilis. The notable point in Sir Michael Hicks-Beach's speech was the outspoken speech—quite pallmallogical—in which he condemned the discreditable absence of method and supervision in checking accounts in the Admiralty. Will you believe—and it appears to have been news to Mr. Childers and to Mr. Caine—that the estimates for the recent Admiralty vote is £850,000 under what was not only required, but what was absolutely being spent. It arose in this way. The estimate provided for the purchase of 30 torpedo boats, but left out the torpedos and gear. These have to be supplied, and the £850,000 must be added to Mr. Childers' deficit. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach gave Mr. Gladstone the credit for having his finger on this blot—the Admiralty. But he was in a position to do more; and, the truth is, he only made matters worse by postponing, on the score of economy, what, when almost too late, he found was necessary to be done.

The St. James's Gazette is certainly not a Radical organ, but even that paper, in turning away its eyes from the obscurity of its evening rival contemporary and personal enemy, is itself quite pallmallogical in decrying the abuses of our Administration, which Mr. Gladstone allowed, "rather than introduce bickerings and heartburnings into the bosom of the Liberal church. "The Ordnance Department," according to St. James's, "is rotten from top to bottom, and requires to be broken up." One system of rifled guns is abandoned after another in hopeless bungling. Colonel Maitland, the Superintendent of the Royal Gun Factory, publicly confessed what Woolwich has always strenuously denied before, that we had been "distanced in the artillery race so far back as 1875," and still there is no investigation; nothing is done, and our fleet is not armed; and so on and on. We have again an administration 90 per cent. of whom are Peers and cria of Peers, and "hopelessly incompetent men," will be supplied with berths in the Ordnance, the War-Office, the Arsenals, and so on, until disaster comes, and the whole system of abominations is swept away.

One cannot help despising that old man, Gladstone, who, with the democracy of Britain and Ireland at his back, and with the talent he possessed, has fiddled and frittered away his lease of power. And he would do the same again. He is wiry, but has no bone. A clever official; nothing more.

It is now past five, and I do not hear the boys in the street hawking the Pall-Mall. This morning we could buy complete copies of the precious numbers, "word for word," as the boys said, for twopence.

In the House last night the following conversation took place:—

"Mr. A. Grey—I wish to ask the Home Secretary whether he has been informed that the street and footpaths leading to the offices of the Pall Mall Gazette are blocked in such a way as to prevent free and safe access to those offices, and whether he will make arrangements to secure the dispersion of the crowd, so that safe and adequate access thereto may be obtained. ("Oh," and laughter.)

Sir R. Cross—I have had no information until I came to the House that any such thing has taken place. The police, however, have the ordinary instructions to keep the streets clear, and they are bound to protect life and a free passage through the streets in this as every other case.

Mr. A. Grey—Will the right hon. gentleman order a sufficient number of police to go to Northumberland-street—("Oh, oh")—to ensure that there should be a free passage, to prevent any danger to life and property?

No answer was given.

Now look at this that follows, and you will understand the politico-social aspect of the whole business:—

TRIAL OF MRS. JEFFRIES.

Mr. W. Fowler asked the Secretary of State for the Home Department whether his attention had been called to the statements which had appeared in the public Press, and particularly in the Sentinel for June, 1885, with reference to the recent trial of Mrs. Jeffries at the Middlesex Sessions; whether it was true, as stated in that newspaper, that the judge, together with the counsel for the prosecution and defence, had a private interview before the prisoner was called upon to plead; whether at the conclusion of that interview, the prisoner, by the direction of her counsel, pleaded guilty, and thereupon was sentenced to a nominal punishment of a fine of 200/.; and whether the prisoner's counsel was informed at this private interview that, in the event of his client pleading guilty, the sentence would be one of a fine and not imprisonment.

Sir R. Cross—I can only state that the facts as given in the questions Nos. 1 and 2 are correct, but the judge who tried the case is at the present moment abroad on holiday. I cannot therefore give any information whatever with regard to question No. 3.

The cholera is very bad in Spain, but this is a subject I leave to the wires.

I have only just time to say that in to-night's Pall-Mall Gazette it says—"Among the religious papers the Tablet, Church Review, Methodist Times, The Christian loyally declare themselves in favor of this new crusade."

The British Medical Journal also supports the erring newspaper. In fact, the whole thing has become so respectable, I bought a copy to-night for threepence.

The Poitou's Mails.

TWO DAYS LATER.

The French papers still discuss the efficacy of Dr Ferran's system of inoculation as a preventive against cholera.

Several cities on the English Channel have established sanitary cordons.

The military doctors in Valencia have declared themselves in favor of Dr Ferran's system.

The German papers question the advisability of establishing customs union with Austria.

Advices from Brussels contradict the report that the Anarchists had organized a conspiracy.

It is stated that General de Courcy will be withdrawn from Hué, as his programme is too audacious and imprudent.

The Daily News confirms the announcement that Prince Hoheloho had been named Governor of Alsace-Lorraine.

Voltaire's statue was unveiled on July 14th. The ceremony was attended by an immense concourse of people. Arsene Houssaye made a very eloquent speech. There were only four speeches.

It is stated that General Farre has been seriously hurt by a fall from his horse.

Two socialists have been arrested in Trebitsh. Over 2,000 workmen endeavored to liberate them and attacked the troops with sticks and stones.

The Intransigeant publishes a letter in which it is stated that the Mahdi, before taking Khartoum, offered to allow the British vanguard to come to Gordon's rescue for a sum of £50,000 stl. Lord Lyons was to remit this amount so soon as the official news of Gordon's surrender was known in Paris. It is stated Lord Granville, on being apprized of this proposal, rejected it.

The cross on the top of the Pantheon was taken down on the 13th of July.

It is probable that Minister Depretis will take a trip for the purpose of interviewing Prince Bismarck.

The deficit in France for the first six months amounts to frs. 20,000,000.

Lord Lytton will replace Lord Lyons as British Ambassador to Paris.

The "Temps" states that M. de Freycinet has given Gen. Courcy instructions to limit his action to the protectorate, but to severely punish the Annamites that rebelled on July 13.

A terrible conflagration in Eachan, Bohemia, destroyed 28 houses including the Town Hall and the Custom House.

France and China have come to an agreement to protect the tombs of soldiers killed during the campaign.

The death is announced of Deputy Fleury.

The rumour is contradicted that the partisans of Castelar have formed a coalition with those of Ruiz Zorrilla.

The Lord Mayor and Biekhert, the brewer, are at loggerheads about levelling Calle Esmeralda alongside the latter's Elysian fields, on which His Lordship wants to encroach, but Biekhert says he'll see him da——shed first. We'll back Biekhert.

MR. THICKE'S LECTURE.

With much pleasure we give the first chapter of Mr. Thicke's lecture on "Art at Home" delivered on Wednesday night before a crowded and intellectual audience in the rooms of the Literary Society:—

Ladies and gentlemen,

I am almost ashamed to say so, but I really feel in a somewhat false position here to-night. Firstly because I am a stranger in a strange land, and secondly because I have presumed to address an audience comprised of members of a Literary Society whose knowledge and experience must of necessity be far greater than my own. Still for all that I feel more at home when I reflect that I am speaking to Englishmen who like myself are many thousands of miles away from their native land, and for that reason more than any other they will, I know, deal quietly with me and my shortcomings. If the title which I have chosen for the short paper I propose to read to you to-night seems, at first sight, an ambitious one, I must crave pardon for adopting it, and I must ask forgiveness of the society should it prove to be as "dry as dust." Versatility is not a gift that nature has bestowed upon many of her favorites, and in consenting to attempt to add to the list of members who have made the evenings at the English Literary Society to pass quickly and instructively, I regret almost that I have been compelled to fall back upon a subject near akin to my own Profession. In any other direction I fear my endeavours to rivet your attention or in any way gain your approbation would have been altogether thrown away. "Art at Home" therefore, is the not very original title of my discourse to-night. The lecturer on art does not necessarily dictate but he hopes to help to form, guide or correct the taste of the mere amateur, and if he succeeds in however small a degree, he considers he has not laboured in vain. A paper on Art naturally suffers from the want of practical illustration, and I regret it has not been possible during the short time I have been resident in your midst to prepare drawings and designs to illustrate my meaning which would go farther to carry conviction to your minds than any amount of pages o manuscript that I might read.

Art. What is Art? If you look it up in the Dictionary you will find that it is called Science, skill, dexterity, cunning &c. There are two classes of Art the fine, and the useful. Painting and poetry belong to the former, Agriculture, Navigation, and Medecine to the latter. There are so many branches in each of these subdivisions that it cannot be supposed that the same person can arrive at excellence in each. For my purpose to-night it will be sufficient if I attempt however feebly to dwell upon the advantages of artistic study in our own homes, because the great end of Art is to give pleasure. Moreover, the study of art supplies the necesary relaxation to the cares and bothers of everyday life, and affords a relief which is often sought for in other directions. Some people assert that our sympathies should side more with science than with Art. I am inclined to believe that thoy should not. Art requires fostering care, but Science can look after itself. Science is democratic and tends to make the rich more rich, but Art gives moral and intellectual pleasure to both rich and poor. A beggar standing before a beautiful picture is the equal, so far as conditions allow, of the rich man standing before the same picture. Art in Europe, at least, is beginning to enter more into the daily life of all of us, and it is now that the fostering care of which Gœthe spoke long ago should be exercised.

The eye and ear are the chief adjuncts of artistic delights, but it is with the former that I have to deal, although the latter is one well calculated to form the subject of a discourse for those more fitted for the task than I am.

The craving for Variety and Novelty is a powerful impulse in the human mind and makes itself especially apparent in all domestic arrangements where art is brought to bear upon them.

Recollecting that art should be looked apon as a source of pleasure, that it has also an elevating and refining influence on the mind and character, and that it helps to rescue mankind from sensual and selfish enjoyments we feel bound to recognize and emphasize the fact that it is a proper object for public and private encouragement in all communities. At the same time it must be admitted that devotion to art may be excessive, and has sometimes the effect of withdrawing people from the urgency of practical life and rendering them very often indifferent to moral principle. Many living instances with which most of us are familiar justify my making this remark. Unfortunately, there are many exponents of Art in all its branches, whose inner lives will not bear investigation, and we often find that great artistic geniuses are not people with whom we should care to associate privately. On the other hand nothing can be more enjoyable than acquaintance and friendship with artists of all classes whose private character and artistic capabilities are alike irreproachable.

Art is founded on principles unsusceptible of change. Fashion may and does, as we all know to our cost, change the prevailing taste of the day, but first principles remain the same; as in a cycle, the planets, after a period of wandering in the heavens return to the places which they occupied ages before so it is with art, a recurrence to sound taste is equally certain. The judges of Art are as a rule little qualified for the task either by education or habits. This has always been so and will continue, I suppose, to the end of the chapter. Before anyone can with propriety assume the title of Art critic, he must proceed regularly through some course of training thus obtaining the knowledge indispensable for the exercise of his calling or profession.

RIO NEGRO LETTER.

Choele-Choel, July 24.

The Government or the War Office have undeniably committed a grave error in sending down Lieut.-Colonel Palacios and Adjutant della Croce, to recruit their battalion (the 6th of the Line) from the ranks of the Indians, and certainly the movement has given rise to much complaint here. It would all have been 'comme il faut' if the commissioners had restricted themselves to Shaihueque's or Namuncura's tribes, but when they chose men from tribes who have been serving with the regular army for 8 years, yes, and serving with distinction and honor too, they made a mess of it, and the probabilities are that we, civilians, will have to pay the piper, should revolution be accomplished.

Talking of this recruiting excursion, reminds me that the two officers mentioned, together with their ludicrously small escort, had a narrow escape for their lives when picking men out of Shaihueque's tribe. The Adjudant himself was my informant, and he assured me that old S. put no obstacle in their way, but was more inclined to look on the whole affair as an honor than otherwise; evidently his 'capitanejos' looked on the matter in a very different light, and succeeded in inciting the tribe to rebellion, which was not quelled until the 2nd Infantry marched from Roca, and put the whole crowd (excepting only S. himself) in 'cepo lasso' for a night. From Shaihueque, I believe, the commission extracted about 80 men, in Roca between Rauque's and Namquen's people some 40 more, in Chimpay, Namuncura's head quarters, 15 more, and here another 15, all of whom, by the time you receive this, will probably be being initiated into the mysteries of the 'goose' step etc. in Calle Brazil, the resting place of the valiant 6th.

'Apropos' of that inveterate old villian, General, or Admiral Namuncurá, I gave myself the pleasure of visiting him in his regal lodge, a few weeks ago, and I must own I was highly edified by the sight.

I found the worthy Indian in a hut innocent of roof, and with very mean pretensions indeed to walls; he, however, was apparently far beyond the reach of such trivial affairs on him seated in the centre of a circle composed of some 15 women, all diligently employed in serving maté to H. I. H. I at last obtained a faint idea of what the late lamented Cetewayo must have been in his own country.

However, his majesty did me the honor of placing me on his right hand and, between the intervals of maté, informed me in very good Castillian that he was very much annoyed with that august personage, the President of all the Argentines, or, as he very sacrilegiously termed him 'mi compadre Julio,' on the grounds that the last mentioned gentleman had failed to fulfil his contract in so much as he had forgotten to deliver the mares and sheep agreed on in the treaty. My private opinion is that N. and his tribe have been too well treated by a large majority.

The old gent by-the-by, was got up regardless of expense, his costume being composed of a Major's undress coat, 'plus' very tarnished epaulets, a remarkably high celluloid unclean collar, a black 'chiripa,' showing an astonishing disregard to the value of gold lace; a shiny pair of patent-leather boots ornamented with huge Chilian spurs, a gaudy silk handkerchief, and a 'chambergo' completed what I doubt not everyone will consider his very 'recherché' uniform.

A last word about Indians; some weeks ago a commission was sent out after an Indian who was the supposed author of the horrible murder of engineers and officers some three years ago in Puerto San Antonio. The Indian, shot through the lungs as he was stupidly running away, was brought here, and in about a month's time was completely cured, and proved to be after all only the brother of the murderer.

I don't think I will be disclosing any secret if I say a few words on the news that is in everyone's mouth, I refer to the scandalous treatment the German Immigrants to Roca have been subjected to. My information on the subject is very little, but the greater part of it I have obtained from the victims themselves, of whom some 20 or 30 have already passed here on foot and on rafts, en route for Patagones. Their stories, however, differ a good deal; some of them say that they were not given their proper rations, others and in fact all, give as their chief ground of complaint that they were not allowed to work, nor have the Immigration Authorities filled their contract in so much as after 6 months' waiting they have never yet portioned off one single tract of land. That there is some truth in all this cannot be denied, as several Roca residents have told me the same thing. At all events, I may be wrong, but I certainly imagine that the Immigration Department are bound by the law to give these poor foreigners some means of transit, when they are desirous of returning, and not only that, but also continue their rations until the stranger is in no further need of them. Only a few weeks past a batch of these half-naked creatures left Roca on a raft, which unfortunately for them was overturned in mid-river, and they barely escaped with their lives; having presented themselves here to the "Gefe Detal" I am happy to be able to record that the worthy Comandante very properly ignored the clause in their passport which set forth that that they were no longer Immigrants, and therefore had no title to rations &c., and busied himself in finding situations for four of them, rationing the remainder and sending them on their way in bullock-carts.

I should advise any friend of yours who happens to have maize to sell to come down here, as already the chacareros and their gremio are asking $150 per fanega "en espiga."

Wheat, maize, alfalfa, and all sorts of vegetables have been largely planted this year, and if the crops can only be got in before the floods come on us, we shall doubtless tide over the revolution, if not in peace at least in plenty.

Sheep continue valuable, last sale noted being $28 "al corte." Cattle too are pretty firm at 16 to 22 and 24 Nats. Hides are cheap as always here ranging from 50 to 80.

For the rest, business in general is very slack, and all hands are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the Comisario.

St. Phillip.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Ball to-night is the only topic in the city, and we are awakened this morning as if by music's spell. There are sounds of mirth; in the morning air ringing, and sweet happy voices, blithe in every home say, Come. The Bolsa is so adorned that Beauty's own garden could not surpass it, and could we but gather all the golden moments of to-night into life's treasury we could pay with pleasure's coin for all the paper money in circulation. We hope to win the wise who frowned before, to go to this ball; even statues could dance in the midst of such enthusiasm.

With pleasure we remind our readers that the children's articles for the Bazaar, that have come out from London, are on exhibition to-day and to-morrow at the Colegio Merced, and on Saturday and Sunday they will be exhibited in the new Bolsa.

Dr. Irigoyen will not be away so long on his electioneering tour as was expected; we learn on good authority that he may be expected back in 10 or 15 days.

Yesterday morning, the nuns of the Buen Pastor, Montevideo arrived in the Cosmos. They were received and brought on shore by about 50 ladies belonging to the best families in this city, and the Paseo Julio was literally thronged with private carriages to take the ladies to the Salesian Convent. The Archbishop's secretary was on the mole to receive them, and every possible attention was paid these ladies not only by those who went to meet them but also by the Port and Resguardo authorities. They drove up to the Cathedral, where the Archbishop said mass, and breakfasted at the Archbishop's palace, and then drove off to the Convent where there was a species of levee held all day, such was the number of ladies who called on them. We believe the nuns will proceed to Chile, as the Superioress of the order is sister-in-law of the President of Chile. The Santos' Government will yet learn the very grave political error it has committed in this most disgraceful business. All Montevideo testifies to the worth of these ladies and the great good they have done and were doing. We for our part congratulate them on leaving a country where neither chivalry nor religion influence mens' actions.

The Latham Company gave a performance at San Nicolas last evening, and return to Rosario to-day for one last farewell entertainment. We are glad to hear that, although not a great monetary success, the Rosario season has not proved so disastrous as the one in this city. The Company's compliment to the manager on leaving the Plate is a most sensible and substantial one, nothing more nor less than a performance at the Colon Theatre, the entire expenses of which will be borne by the artistes, who moreover give their services free. So generous an action will redound to their credit, long after the 1885 season has been followed by others.

We recommend all our musical subscribers as well as those who have a weakness for the high fantastic, to buy a copy of Mr. Frederic Loose's last production, "Maria," a lively tho' well timed Schottisch. The piece is dedicated to his wife.

Lomas Polo Club. This young club will inaugurate its ground to-morrow by a match—Railway versus Club, play commences at 11 o'clock. The Club team will wear the Club colors, blue and black, and their opponents white. The ground is situated behind the old Temperley station, facing East, and al Lomas have promised to turn out for the occasion.

The cholera news from Spain is most awful. The lower classes, like the Italians last year, are now attacking the doctors, believing that the Government has sent them to poison them. What fearful ignorance!

The official papers told a flattering tale yesterday and soft-soaped the Government for its patriotic 'anhelo' to reduce the Budget. What's the meaning of this flummery? Who got the country into the mess but this self same Government? People who get into a mess are generally anxious to get out of it. Poor Dr. Pacheco has all the hard work to put the things straight.

Several Congressmen took a run down to La Plata yesterday to have a look at the port works and the numerous unfinished buildings in that quarter. The Deputies for Buenos Aires acted as 'cicerones.' The distinguished visitors were delighted with everything, and predicted great things for the enchanted city.

The mortar used at the South end of town is as seedy as that quarter itself. Houses or walls are continually tumbling down. On Wednesday a wall fell in Calle Independencia, but killed nobody.

The irrepressible Industrial Club won't stick to its last, but is now going to dabble in sheepwash, finding Argentine Portland Cement no go. It has called a conference of sheepwash makers to exchange ideas. Most of the wines and 'licores' made in the slums of the city by those 'industriales' the Club has called into being, would make capital sheepwash, as they are highly poisonous. Two birds can be killed with one stone (We say nothing of the wholesale killing of the public by those vile concoctions): The stuff can be made to serve as wine, with one lable, and as sheepwash with another. We plainly see another of the Club's 'industrias del pais' rising on the commercial horizon.

An Russian illustrated paper represents a number of young women seated at a table, each examining for trichinæ. It is stated that women make efficient microscopists. Last year they thus examined 30,650 carcasses. The diseased meat is at once destroyed.

Don Benign Acosta is the coming man for the next Governorship of Cordoba. This is the gentleman who formed the memorable drink tax about which there was such a stupendous bobbery some eighteen months ago.

The Catholic Association gives a grand literary and musical 'velada' to-night to the elite of society. The famous concert player Professor Giucci, who has just arrived from Europe, will perform.

The new Police Palace in Plaza Lorea will be commenced at once as the Minister, and the Mayor, and the master mason have all approved the plans. What is the meaning of this new absurdity of calling all Government buildings 'Palacios'? It is highly absurd, as, from an architectural point of view, or size, there is not a single public edifice in the city that would not be sneered at in Europe as a cock loft. Besides, the word 'Palacio' sounds quite anti-republican; and Argentines pride themselves on being the "fin fleur" of republicans.

The news from Bahia Blanca is lachrymose. The Naposta bar and other points are filling up with mud, and big vessels cannot get in without great danger. The lightship ordered in 1883 is still 'in nubibus,' and the farthing candle on Monte Hermoso is not worth a fig or a 'fosforo.' We're awfully sorry to hear this about the Liverpool of the South. It's unfortunate, but true, that South American Liverpools, Gladstones, Bels, Chicagos, Brightons etc. invariably come to what a late lamented subscriber used to, emphatically and ungrammatically, call 'conspicious grief.'

"I have neither time nor inclination to pass paregories on the deceased," remarked a funeral orator. "Panegyrics!" a person present corrected. "As you please, sir" remarked the orator stiffly; "the words aranonymous."

Young Lady (at a reception, trying to force a conversation): "Mr. Noodlebang, what do you suppose makes all these receptions so invariably stupid?" —Mr. Noodlebang: "Aw, really, I haven't the ghost of an ideaw."—Young lady: "And all the other gentlemen are much like you. I begin to see the reason now."

The fair Committee of the Bolsa ball find some difficulty in getting in the cash, and have issued a notice to the invited to pay up. It would be an awful thing if the ball left a deficit. Forbid it, Terpsychore!

The duel at Flores on Wednesday between two Italian editors was such a poor affair that the Juez de Paz told all those who were arrested to go in peace and not bother him. One of the combatants got a scratch on the eye which a bread and water poultice will cure. A lot of Village bumpkins witnessed the silly affair.

There is only burial room for three months in the Chacarita Cemetery, and there is the usual annual flutter going on about enlarging it, but, as a matter of course, nothing will be done—except talk.

The Celmanistas are distancing all their competitors in the drumming and fifing line. They had another tremendous pow-wow on Wednesday night, and sent up a lot of fire balloons which, according to their political opponents, went near setting fire to several houses —but didn't.

There will be a grand exhibition and sale of Babies and Children's Clothes from Europe in the new Bolsa to-morrow night, and all day on Sunday; proceeds to go to charity. This rather peculiar exhibition for a Bolsa is, we take it, a mild and graceful hint from the fair Damas de Beneficencia to bachelor brokers to get married as soon as possible.

The National Board of Education holds a million Nats worth of house property in this city, the titles to which are about to be all bound into one showy and costly volume.

The Post Office has ordered 100 new Morse instruments for the Telegraph service.

We see that two deserving telegraph clerks in Corrientes have been promoted. They deserve it. The life of a Corrientes telegraph clerk is most exciting. He must have his will and his coffin always ready, as he never knows when he may be shot 'pro bono patriæ' in one of the numerous political scuffles up there.

The plans for repairing the Maldonado Bridge on the Belgrano Road have been approved, after a whole year's pottering and red tape. We suppose the work will be completed about the close of the century.

The Custom House authorities intend, for the future, to auction off the 'encomiendas' etc. in the Resguardo on the passenger pier once every six months, instead of every two years as formerly. Forgotten trifles all went to pot in two years.

A queer accident occurred to a milkman in Mendoza the other day. He was galloping round a corner, when down came his horse, and, according to a local paper, the man was smashed in bits and his cans rolled in the street. The cans mounted the horse again and rode on! This is a wonderful accident. Our colleague does not say what was done with the bits of the smashed milkman.

Dysentery, Cholera Fever, Ague Coughs, Colds, &c.

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne

(Ex Army Medical Staff)

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates health action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensive.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests too often fatal diseases Diphtheria Fever, Croup, Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charming Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer Toothache, Meningites, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemist, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan-5th 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 22, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London—"Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine, DR COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhœa, and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a "deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike." We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all classes."

CAUTION—None genuine without the words 'Dr J. Collis Browne or the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

The gold speculation is dwindling to insignificant proportions and dullness is rapidly creeping into the market. For the last three days a fictitious activity has been kept up by the large sales or purchases of one or another broker, but the majority of operators are out of the market and take little interest in the speculation. The premium is drooping and the bulls are obliged to make great efforts to keep the rate above 41 o/o.

After the stormy days of the beginning of the month, affairs on 'Change look very dull. The market is entering a great calm, but affairs are liable to such violent changes that the dullness of the moment may be followed by exceptional activity next week. The general aspect of the speculation shows a heavy market. To judge by the numbers of sellers and paucity of buyers, the majority have overbought and are now selling out. The market was pushed to 42½ yesterday by the large purchases of a leading Argentine broker; to-day some other party took his mantle and bought heavily, but the premium ruled weak at 41½ and the market showed a stubborn inclination to fall all morning. Affairs looked heavy and all expected the market to fall under 40 o/o.

Operations in gold for cash embraced 41,500 dollars; the market opened at 42 and closed at 41½, weak. 300,000 were sold for the end of the month at 42 and 41½. About two hundred thousand were sold for the end of September at 41 to 40, the market closing at 40.50. The difference between prices for the 30th and for September tends to weaken the market considerably, as it attracts much gold. The operation is a brilliant one for holders of gold.

Cedulas ruled firm and a little more active than usual. A few thousand Series A changed hands for cash at 101. Series E and F were sold cash at 79⅞ and 80. 24,000 Series G were sold for the end of the month at 88. A few National Bank Shares were sold at 148 cash and 147 for the end of the month.

Exchange is firm. Small amounts were passed to-day at 46⅝d and 3.99 marks. Franks were passed as high as 4.97 yesterday. The following rates are quoted:—46⅞-47d on London; 4.92-4.96 fes, and 3.98-4 marks. Discounts shew no change. Rates in paper are quoted at 5½ to 6 o/o and in gold at 7 o/o. Paper money continues very easy.

The Head of the Land Office has fixed the 29th prox. for the auction of surplus lots of Nauquen lands. These are lots the buyers of which at the last auctions failed to comply with the stipulations of the land law. It is thought that these lots are numerous, as many parties bought at the auction with the intention of selling their "boletos" immediately afterwards at a profit, but owing to the high prices paid they were nearly all desappointed.

Eight hundred cows from the great Frias estancia have been sold at $150 % per head. Buyer, Mr. Repetto.

Messrs. Drabble have bought 300 'capones' for their Campana freezing factory at $40 % per head.

Messrs. Cano, Stempel & Co. have applied to the Government for 32 leagues of land in the Nauquen territory for colonization purposes.

Several sales of cattle are reported in Bahia Blanca at $10 to 12 m/n per head. Cows 'al corte' are selling at 6 to 7 m/n.

A colleague announces that there is a very heavy speculation on foot to put up the price of gold. The aspect of the market and the falling quotations on the black board do not confirm this statement.

The French packet Equateur took from this port 16 cases of specie, amounting to 400,000 francs.

On the 24th inst. Messrs Bullrich & Co will sell a splendid lot of Negrette rams from Mr Chas's cabaña Rosario. This will be the greatest ram auction of the season.

There was nothing new about the financial committee of the Deputies to-day, but it is rumored that the members are determined to apply the pruning knife to all salaries, to reduce the number of troops, and to lay up the fleet with the exception of two or three gunboats.

Exchange on Montevideo is quoted at par to ½ discount.

Eight hundred hides from the Trinidad saladero in Montevideo have been sold at 70 rls, and 28 pipes of tallow at 14½ rls gold.

The Poitou arrived to-day with 412 emigrants. She is posted to leave on the 18th.

The Custom House returns yesterday amounted to 39,000 $m/n. The returns of the month up to date exeed 600,000 $m/n.

The Bahia Blanca papers state that the camps in the district of that name are in shocking condition, owing to the drought and heavy frosts. Sheep are dying on many estancias and all the farmers are praying for rain and soft weather. The camps around Bahia Blanca are very bad and animals are thin. A storm, accompanied by cold wind, would kill the greater number of sheep in that district. The tenor of advices from all the outside districts is more or less the same, and the season is a most unsatisfactory one. The farmers hope to pull through with an improvement in the value of wool of the new clip.

Buyers of Catalina Mole Shares offered to-day 40 o/o premium, but no shares were to be had at this price; we believe we shall soon see this stock at 100 premium.

The La Plata is full of cargo and will probably take a good list of passengers. Captain Hart Dyke, her commander, was welcomed on 'Change to-day.

Several friends from Montevideo were welcomed on 'Change this afternoon.

All the weak feeling of the morning disappeared during afterhours, and a strong bullish attack took the market by surprise. Immediately after the close of official hours a few operations were effected at 41½, but the market began to rise steadily as two Italian brokers entered the liquidation parlor and bought right and left. Several hundred thousand dollars were sold and the market closed at 42.80, for cash; 43, buyers for the end of September. The sudden turn in the market was a surprise, and showed that the bulls were not asleep.

Telegrams from Valparaiso quote exchange on London at 22¾d. This means gold at about 106 o/o premium and paper at a discount of 51 o/o. There is a dead-lock in Chilian commercial circles.

Telegrams from Rio quote exchange on London at 18d. The situation of the Argentine market compares favorably with that of Brazil or Chile.

At foot we publish the balance-sheet of the Provincial Bank for the month of July. The following comparative figures will be read with interest; 000's are omitted:—

	July	June	May
Deposits	87,614	83,680	81,461
Gold checks	613	1,494	1,311

The most remarkable feature in the balance-sheet of last month is the great falling-off in the amount of gold checks in circulation and of the gold reserve, exceeding one million in the latter and nearly a million in the former. Deposits show a great increase, compared with the previous month.
